

Women Entrepreneur Survey Results

Ninety-nine women entrepreneurs took the Scale it Up! Sustainability survey that asked questions about their interests and concerns for business and the planet. Here are some of the results of the survey:

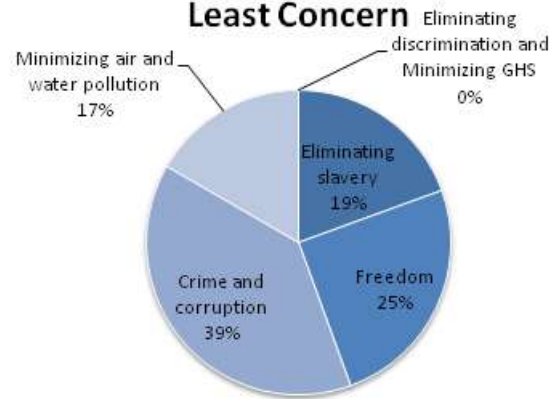

About 90% of survey respondents believe it is important to buy products or services from a sustainable business as a consumer and that integrating sustainable practices into their current/future business idea is also important.

We also found that 81% of the women surveyed would take advantage of affordable programming to learn about incorporating sustainable practices into their business, if it were accessible.

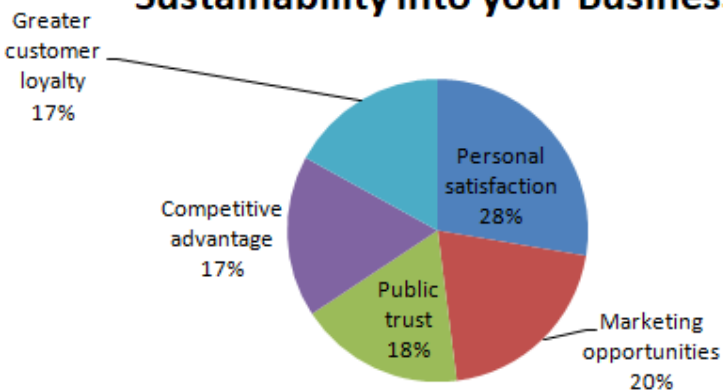

Top 5 Environmental/Social Challenges of Greatest Concern

Top 5 Environmental/Social Challenges of Least Concern

Top 5 Benefits from Implementing Sustainability into your Business

Challenges from Implementing Sustainability into your Business

